MANAGEMENT BY LUCK

It is the month of August. It is raining and the little town where I went looked totally deserted. It is tough times, I learn that everybody is in debt, and Everybody lives on credit. I enter the only hotel, lay three Rs.1000 notes on the reception counter, and go to inspect the rooms upstairs in order to choose one. The hotel proprietor takes Rs.1000 notes and runs to pay his debt to the milk man. The milk man takes Rs.1000 notes, and runs to pay his debt to the grower of this cattle feed, the grower of feed takes Rs 1000 notes and runs to pay his debt to the servant and his family who in these hard times, gave their services without asking for payment. The servant runs to the hotel, and pays off his debt with Rs. 1000 notes to the hotel proprietor to pay for the outhouse and food that he and his family got on credit. The hotel proprietor then lays Rs.1000 notes back on the counter so that I will not suspect anything. At that moment, I came down after inspecting the room and take back my Rs.1000 notes, after saying that I did not like any of the rooms, and leave town. No. one earned anything. However, the whole town is now without debt, and looks to the future with a lot of optimism "Hats off"
